Bethel has fastest-growing valuation in Oxford County

According to the State's preliminary 1990 valuations, the Town of Bethel is the fastest-growing municipality in Oxford County in terms of property valuation. This position had been held by the town of Newry during the past few years.

Bethel's preliminary state valuation for 1990 is $116,250,000—up from $89,900,000 last fiscal year, or an increase of 66 percent. Newry still holds second place in the county in terms of rising property valuation. Newry's preliminary state valuation for 1990 is $79,200,000, up 55 percent from last fiscal year's $51,100,000. The state figures were obtained by The Citizen from the state Bureau of Taxation.

The main use made of the state valuation figures is by the Department of Educational and Cultural Affairs in apportioning state monies for school districts. The wealthier the school district—in terms of property valuation—the less money the state gives in aid.

The state valuation figures are also used by the school districts in figuring the assessments on the individual towns in the district. The wealthier towns—as judged by their property valuation—have a larger share of the school district assessment than do the poorer towns in the district. Thus, Bethel residents can expect to see their share of the school assessment go up next year.

A partial listing of the valuations of various towns in Oxford County follows. The town with the highest valuation (not the most rapidly increasing but the highest) is Rumford, site of the Boise paper mill. The total valuation of property in the county is $2,283,150,000, up 25 percent from last fiscal year.

The main use made of the state valuation figures is by the Department of Educational and Cultural Affairs in apportioning state monies for school districts. The wealthier the school

Housing plan in W. Bethel stirs some opposition at public hearing

The affordable housing project proposed by Jeff and Pauline Parsons for a five-acre site off Main St. in West Bethel went before a public hearing last Wednesday night. After an hour of discussion, Planning Board members seemed to have a clearer idea of some of the final hurdles to be crossed in the application process for a site plan permit.

The project is planned to have 16 two-bedroom apartments to be financed by the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), plus a small factory for assembling the Parsons' popular "Ta-Ka Ball" game, with an additional two-bedroom apartment above. Only the 16 apartments, which would be built in two phases, would be financed by FmHA and would thus come under FmHA guidelines.

Under those guidelines, FmHA sets a rate of return on the investment plus a percentage of the gross income that would be permitted as a management fee. The rent in a project such as the one being proposed would not be subsidized but would be set by the FmHA based on the criteria above. The minimum rent is estimated by the developer to be $375 a month.

However, the idea of an affordable housing project, did not appeal to some at the public hearing. Nina Wheeler said, "I've lived in low-income housing. I know what happens in them. And that's one of the fears [of the people in West Bethel]."

But Planning Board member Dennis Doyon said his experience with FmHA projects has been positive. "All the ones I've seen are immaculate," he said.

Mrs. Wheeler was also concerned with water supply for the project. "We have trouble with water in West Bethel, so how are they going to supply 17 apartments and a business?" she asked the board.

The developer's engineer, Bill Parsons, responded that Mrs. Parsons [who was not at the hearing] had come to an agreement with the Bethel Water District whereby he would pay for the district to drill a new well for the West Bethel portion of the municipal water system. He had pledged $17,000 to the water district to upgrade the system. Mr. Stowell said.

Mrs. Wheeler was also concerned with water for fire protection. "Fire protection will come from Bethel, of course, but where will the water come from?"

Chief Fire Officer Jimmy Young had looked over the site and interposed no objections. Fire Chief Paul Kehlmann Regis Brown said, "The fire chief apparently has no problem with it."

Other matters raised at the public hearing included questions about a play area for children, adequacy of the soil to accept the size septic system specified in the plan, and laundry facilities.

Leslie Cooley expressed concern about adding a large number of children to the school system, assuming the families moving into the project will be mostly young families with children. "The schools we have now aren't big enough for the children we have. There'll be 17 new families, and you would assume they'd have one child [each], if not more," Mrs. Cooley said.

Board member Don Feeney commented, "I can't say kids are a negative impact on schools." But he said it would be useful to know how crowded the school system actually is, and what the prospects are for a new facility at Crescent Elementary.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch said his main concern was with the building debris and later, with the solid waste. He said he would want guarantees from the developer that the building debris would be hauled off to some landfill other than the Bethel landfill. And he might seek an impact fee to cover the additional solid waste the town will have to handle after the apartments are filled.

Following the public hearing, the board told consultant Stowell to come back to the meeting with some additional information on the questions raised.

The meeting was the first for new board member Elaine Merrill and new alternate member Frank Vogt.

LURC setting up shop in Albany Aug. 25-26 to assist local residents

The Maine Land Use Regulation Commission staff will provide Albany Township residents with assistance and will answer questions about commission permit requirements and procedures during a temporary satellite weekend field office, scheduled for the area Aug. 25-27.

Commission staff will be available to visit individuals' lots on Saturday, Aug. 26, between 12-3 p.m. and Sunday, Aug. 27, from 1-3 p.m.

To register for a site visit, contact Catherine Carroll or David Allen at the Land Use Regulation Commission, State House Station 22, Augusta, 04332, telephone 207-289-2631, or from within Maine, 1-800-452-8711, prior to Aug. 23.

Office hours will be held on Friday, Aug. 25, from 1-5 p.m. and Sunday, Aug. 26, from 9-11 a.m. at the Albany Town Hall, at the junction of Route 5 and 35.

The experimental, weekend outreach program has been initiated by the commission this year.

"Our Review Division staff volunteers their time to conduct a temporary field office. So far this year we've held weekend sessions at Millinocket, Grand Lake Stream, Matinicus Island and Rangeley and they have all been very well received," said Gloria LeVasseur, LURC's supervisor of development. "People seem to appreciate our extra effort to make it easier for them to get the information and assistance they need to meet LURC standards."

Leslie Cooley expressed concern about adding a large number of children to the school system, assuming the families moving into the project will be mostly young families with children. "The schools we have now aren't big enough for the children we have. There'll be 17 new families, and you would assume they'd have one child [each], if not more," Mrs. Cooley said.

Door-to-door trash pick-up reported 'going well' in Newry

The weekly trip to the dump is a thing of the past for Newry residents. For the past month, most Newry residents have had to go no further than the end of their driveways with their household trash. And even those residents who live far off the beaten path have had to go no further than a conveniently placed dumpster.

Newry is the first town to institute town-wide pickup of household trash, and the first area town to fully fund picking up the trash and hauling it away.

Until July, Newry residents had taken their trash to the Bethel landfill. Told by Bethel officials that the landfill was about full and would be closed to household trash from non-Bethel residents, Newry officials acted quickly to hire D & E Sanitation to pick up the trash.

The fee for trash is not cheap—about $75,000 a year. However, about $25,000 of this is paid by commercial interests, primarily Sunday River, which owns most of the dumpsters.

The breakdown of the annual cost is as follows: $40,000 for weekly pick-up at 95 homes plus emptying three dozen dumpsters; $12,000 to haul the trash to the transfer station; and $24,000 as the annual fee paid to the transfer station (at the rate of $60 per ton, times the annual tonnage of 400 tons).

In July, the actual cost to the Town treasury was $2,830 for the entire door-to-door program. In addition, the Town pays Bethel $7,000 a year so that Newry residents can continue to take their white goods, stumps, tires, etc. to the Bethel landfill.

Newry Selectman Steve Wight says the newly installed trash collection system, "is going very well." Residents are still responsible for disposing of their own stumps, white goods, construction debris and tires at the Bethel landfill and must first get a dump sticker and pay a fee for each item to be disposed of.

Dwight Merrill, owner of D & E Sanitation, has started making the rounds in Newry each weekday morning. He first sends his rock body ton truck to the Bear River Valley. When it's done, it rendezvous with the packer-truck at the Bethel landfill and transfers its load to the large truck, which then goes up the Sunday River valley making its collections. The dumpsters are used in town are at the side of the highway, although the town has also purchased dumpsters and placed them at the town offices, Monkey Brook Road, Combs Village, Vining Village, Sunday River Village and Old Town.

When it's finished picking up in the Sunday River valley, the packer truck heads for South Paris. The whole operation takes about six hours, Mr. Merrill said. "I think it's going good," he added. "Everybody seems to be using it."

Unfortunately, everybody includes bears. "The bears think we've set up a cafeteria for them," Selectman Wight said. The bears have lost some time in learning how to open a plastic dumpster lid. The solution, according to Mr. Wight:

W. Bethel mill offers to lease landing on river

The Androscoggin River might not be getting much cleaner, but it is becoming more accessible.

Roy Newton has proposed to lease the site of the old ferry landing behind the Newton & Tebbets mill, in West Bethel, to the Town of Bethel, for use as a canoe put-in/take-out point and picnic area.

The five-year lease would be for a nominal fee, probably $100 per year, said Steve Wight, president of the Friends of the Androscoggin, the organization that is helping put the arrangement together.

The Bethel selectmen have discussed the proposal, but have yet to consider the matter formally, according to Town Manager Rodney Lynch.

The new site would be known as "Newt's Landing," in honor of Mr. Newton's father, Burton L. Newton, who passed away in 1985.

"Newt" Newton was an avid outdoorsman, his widow said. The father and son pair often used the ferry landing site as a take-out point after a day of duck hunting together on the river.

From land, Newt's Landing can be reached by following the Ferry Road, which runs along the eastern side of the mill property.

Mr. Newton said plans call for clearing brush and spreading gravel at the site, to create easy access to the river, plus a picnic area and parking. The site would be donated by Newton & Tebbets.

"We won't be able to do much this year," Mr. Newton said, "but eventually we're going to have a first-class little cessible during the winter.

"Over the past two years, we've had to open a number of roads to people moving in," said Selectman—and former Road Commissioner—Raymond Seames.

Mr. Seames said sections of three roads were likely candidates for winter closing: 7 miles on the Ma Zeppa (Kennebunk) Road off Rte. 219, 3 miles on the Sheldene—Laneslip Bog Road, and 3 miles on the lower section of Patch Mountain Road and approximately 1½ miles on the upper end of the section.

"There are seasonal camps along these stretches of road, he said, but the town has not plowed any of them in the recent past. Unless, however, the roads are officially closed to winter maintenance, the town would be forced to keep them open if, for instance, someone decided to insulate a camp and use it during the ski season, or if they decided to build a new home there."

For example, Mr. Seames said, the town is currently forced to plow ½-mile of the Martin Road to provide access to a single house which is used by people from Massachusetts when they go skating.

Mr. Seames said both the Maine Department of Transportation and the Maine Municipal Association have recommended the town take an even stronger step in dealing with unused roads and close them altogether.

"But I don't think the commitment is there for that now," he said. But such roads to winter maintenance "would be a reasonable step to take right now."

If the town were to take the stronger step of discontinuing unused stretches of road, he noted, it would be liable for damage to property owners along the discontinued stretches. Such damages would be based on an assessment of how much the closing reduced the owners' property values.

On the other hand, he said, if a road is not discontinued and is deemed to live there, the town would be faced with upgrading the road—at a minimum cost of $100,000 per mile, not including routine maintenance costs.

Mr. Seames said Maine law requires that the decision to close a road to winter maintenance be made before Oct. 1, and that it be for a specific number of years (up to 10).

Also on the warrant for the special town meeting is an article appropriating $2,000 for the beach account.

"It's just a legality," said First Selectwoman Marie Bartlett. Voters at this year's annual town meeting approved raising the money, she explained, but the words "and appropriate" were inadvertently omitted from the article.

The special town meeting will be held in the town office (not the town hall), and will begin at 7 p.m.

TANYA CORIN ENTERS BATES

Tanya Corin, daughter of Dan Corin and Fay Krapf, both of Bryant Pond, will enter Bates College as a sophomore.

Ms. Corin transferred to the Lewiston college from San Francisco State University in California.

A highly selective liberal arts college, Bates is the oldest educational institution of higher learning in New England and the second oldest in the nation. It has a current enrollment of approximately 1,500 undergraduates.

SMITH REUNION HELD

Descendants of Simon A. and Maryann McKeen Smith gathered at the Fryeburg Fairgrounds for their eighth reunion on Aug. 4, with 115 relatives from Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Texas and South Carolina attending.

Directly following lunch, a short meeting was held to select a committee to plan next year's reunion.

Committees for 1990 are: Roger Smith, of Stow; Ann Roberts, Ernest Smith and Miriam Eastman, of Fryeburg; and Barbara Eastman, of Chatham, N.H.

Prizes were given for: Family with most members present; Nellie Smith who had the largest family; and the first to attend reunion.

Betty Hubbard of Cross, S.C.; Oldest present—Ats Harriman, Fryeburg, 83 years young; Youngest present—five-month-old Melissa Whitney, daughter of Stephen and Terri Whiney, of North Conway, N.H. Late arrivals were Scott and Kara Smith, from Plano, Texas, and Andrew and Kelly Smith, from Fryeburg, with their twin, Camden and Cooper, who were born June 23. If they had come earlier, Scott would have been the farthest traveled and Andrew's twins would have had the prize for youngest.

Musical entertainment was provided by Ernest and Roger Smith and their families; Ann Roberts, Jessica and Melissa Crocker also sang. Music was enjoyed by all.

SWINGING AWAY—Bethel's Rick Whitney was eventually thrown out after an early-morning at-bat against the Westies arch rival, Lewiston, last week. Rick had to stroke a single and a three-run homer, but it was not enough, as the Westies lost 7-4 Thursday's home game 12-11, evening the series at one game apiece. After a rousing 8 Sunday, Pine Tree League action was scheduled to continue last night (Tuesday) at Perham Field in West Paris. Thursday's game is scheduled to start at 5:30.

NEWT'S LANDING—Roy Newton has volunteered to lease this old ferry landing site behind Newton & Tebbetts mill in West Bethel to the town of Bethel for use as a canoe put-in/take-out and picnic area. The (currently inoperative) dry hydrant in the foreground would also be repaired in order to provide an additional water source for fighting fires in the area. The Bethel selectmen have yet to formally consider the proposal, which would involve a nominal lease fee of, perhaps, $1 a year.

Bethel Braves maintain perfect record by beating Woodstock for L.L. CROWN

The Bethel Braves, 11 Woodstock teams traveled to West Park for the final game of the North Oxford Little League Championship Series last month.

This was the game of the season, as it faced off two well-seasoned Little League teams. Woodstock entered the game with a 14-2 record against Bethel, with a 16-0 record. Woodstock's starting pitcher was Sean Gibson. Tim Remington started for Bethel.

In the top of the first inning, Chris Howe got the first of only three hits off Remington. His left-center double was for naught, however, as Gibson grounded to Josh Paquette at second and Jim Hart struck out.

In the bottom of the first, Gibson allowed two base runners but no runs. Paquette walked; Remington then flied out and then Josh Otten singled with two outs. The double steal was on, but Paquette was thrown out at third base to end the inning.

The top of the second inning went quickly for the Braves. Remington struck out two batters plus another easy chance for Paquette at second base.

Joel Riley led off the bottom of the second for the Braves with a walk. He stole second and then advanced to third on a throwing error. Mike Rackliffe struck out, but Jason Frazier bounced to second and Riley headed for home. The Braves moved on top—one zip.

The top of the second inning went quickly for the Braves. Remington struck out two batters plus another easy chance for Paquette at second base.

Chris Howe then picked up the third hit of the day for Woodstock with a sharp single, but the rest of Woodstock's bats were silent as Remington picked up strikeouts nine and 10.

The final score was 4-1, Bethel Braves.

The Bethel Braves' two-year record is now 34-0.

After watching the Little League Championship series in Old Town, Braves coach Les Otten had this to say: "It is safe to say that either one of these teams, Bethel or Woodstock, were equal to the quality of the All Stars playing Downeast...Baseball is alive and well in the northern Oxford region. These guys will all be in school together for the next five years and more. We should see a lot of great baseball over the next few years."

C. Morgan led off the top of the fifth with a hard ground ball back to the mound; Poland followed, grounding back to the box as well. S. Morgan then ended the inning with a full-count strikeout.

Gilson allowed B.J. Otten to reach second base in the bottom of the fifth, but Chris Howe's rocket arm cut down B.J.

By CLARICE GIBSON

I was just getting around to write Thursday evening, Aug. 10, when Becky Shaw called to tell me that the old Butters place was burning. I wish more people would call in as it makes it so much easier. This is one of the older places on the road. The May Lapham was the one called when I wanted history, but, of course, she has passed on. Going along the road I believe Frank is the longest. He was in the service and the first years of marriage were lived elsewhere, but we almost always would come up to a week.

Aug. 9 took a trip to So. Paris to pick up some things for Ripley and Fletcher and when I got home the lights were out. Seems a Ryder truck hauling chips for P.H. Chaudhury and driven by Robert Palmer, of West Paris, met a red truck in the opinion of either smashing into it or running onto a soft shoulder, and when he did he couldn't make it back and lost control, crashing into the pole. We were out of lights between three and four hours. This happened between Shaw's and Shimamura's and under the road was also blocked for a time. Tuesday Kristin Gibson and I went to So. Paris and picked up Kristin's Bonanza for lunch. On the way taking Main Street we picked up blueberries on Kins Hill. The hill where the blueberry crop is not up yet, with the long dry spell. Monday Barbara MacDougall was kind enough to bring me up some string beans and stayed for a little time.

Sunday, Ben Gordon had his annual cookout. People brought different dishes and Ben had chips, hamburgers and hotdogs with rolls, drinks, watermelon and cakes from his bakery in New York. Attending were Norman M. and Norman R. Funkhouser, Long Island, New York, Gordon and John C. Gord, all of Waitsfield, VT; Mike Jenkins, Saugus, Mass.; Oscar Libby, Norridgewock, Mass.; Frank and Sid Murphy of our road brought their friend, Lucy Boroson, of Dunellen, NJ; Bishop, Bucksport; Kimbelin and Keith Bishop, Bucksport; Matthew, Melinda and Steve Bishop, Norway; someone was nice enough to go get Leslie Lapham, who is in Ledgerview Nursing Home but had lived on our road for years; Bill Davis and Poly; Becky Kendal, Mr. and Mrs. David Mason and three girls; Jonna, Althea, Linda and Daniel Stevens; Judy Cook and three girls, Dan, Sally and Amy Hanson, Abby and Misty Hutchins, John Shire, Charles, Ruth and Kara Mason, Joe Shimamura, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibson, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. John Corriveau, Monica, Tina, Tana Corriveau, Scott and Jana Mason, Gilead; and Brian Strickland and friends, of Bethel, came after I left. The view is beautiful but always dread the climate. If you have missed anyone or spelled someone's name wrong, send me a note. We let around three as another neighbor was working on here. Wilfred and Kim Gibbons had asked if they could come see friends, so Frankie, George, Ira, Kristin, Jim, Sue and Heather Gibson, my brother John Allen, Norway, as well as Wilfred's co-worker Dave, wife Nancy and two boys, Lewiston, Debbie, Thompson, and Karen Kuchen, up for the night.

SAYWARD LAMB RETIRES

On Saturday evening, July 22, a surprise retirement party was given to Sayward Lamb by the personnel of the Raymond Funeral Homes. The party was held at the Lamb cottage on North Road. Dick Mr. Lamb was presented with a new mounting rifle and gun case, as well as other gifts. This was followed by a buffet supper.

Mr. Lamb began his employment with I.W. Andrews and Son in September of 1948. J.W. Raymond and Son purchased the Andrews Funeral Homes in South Woodstock and Buckfield. He has also managed the Greenleaf Funeral Home Bethel after it was acquired by the Raymond Funeral Homes. Mr. Lamb retired on July 23 after more than 40 years with the Andrews Funeral Homes.

Those attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. W. Bradford Raymond, of Norway; Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Raymond, of Harrison; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wentworth, of Bridgton; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Weston, of North Waterford; Dana Chandler, of Norway; Mrs. Sharon Nelson, of South Paris; Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, of Mechanic Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Ned and Clements, of South Woodstock; Glenn Harrington, of South Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Richardson, of Norway; Albert (Jim) Carey, of South Paris; Mary Springer, of Norway; Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacLeod, of Harrison, and Cynthia Lamb.

DAVIS RECEIVES RPI MEDAL

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, of Troy, N.Y., has announced the names of high school students who have been awarded the Rensselaer Medal.

From the local area is Kevin Davis, of Saturday we woke up to a thunder shower which apparently struck on just Gibson Road as we were out of lights for awhile (over an hour). The rains continued all day, which was also heavy. Frank's great niece, Angela Herrick, was getting married so we left around 12:30 after Jim, Sue and John had gone to granddaughters Heather to go to wedding with us to spend the night. The three others went to the village. The wedding was at West Bethel. Groom's reception at the Locke Mills Legion Hall. Justine Shimamura, grandaughter of Joe and Gerry Shimamura, was ring bearer. It was a lovely wedding and reception in spite of the rain.

Sylvia Benson's funeral was also Saturday, and as I didn't know who from this town I do know that when we came back from the service a lot of cars were at the home where the burial was held. At Riversides it was a lot of cars.

Victor and Judy Coolidge and girls left July 26 for a vacation in Pennsylvania and returned Aug. 1. They visited several places, including Gettysburg, Lancaster County and Philadelphia.

Barbara MacDougall and I rode down Friday evening to Sylvia Benson's funeral. We also saw Dick and Sue Angenio from our road. Sylvia will be missed, as even though she hadn't been feeling well she always had a cheerful word.

Gerry Shimamura, Debbie, Dawn, Ryan and Rusty Stevens, with others, went to Popham Beach Aug. 8. They had a picnic lunch, lolled on the beach and climbed Fort Baldwin.

Joe and Gerry Shimamura were once again grandparents, Aug. 9, at 10 p.m. Parents are Bill and Dawn Shimamura, of North Norway. The baby girl weighed 8 lbs. 8 ozs.

Frankie's aunt, Louise Gibson, turned 100 Aug. 1. She lives by herself in Lynn, Mass. Outside of having someone come in once a week to help clean, she does all the work herself. She did have pneumonia winter before last so it has slowed her up some, but she is still amazing.

Wednesday night Frankie brought our granddaughter Therese Gibson, and Karen Kuchen, up for the night.

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

Sudbury Canada Days, the Bethel Historical Society's summer heritage festival, drew large, enthusiastic numbers despite the heavy rains last weekend. The two-day event featured a wide range of activities for all ages and interests and commemorates another era of Bethel's past.

Kicks off events on Saturday was a craft fair, coordinated by Celia Couture. The theme was "All Creatures Great and Small." Because of the rain, the parade—with Grand Marshal James Anderson in his 18th century Black Watch uniform—was held in the Dr. Moses Mason House meeting room. Judges this year were Wendy Ford, Ruth Silver and Marvin Ouwinga. Winners included: in the "cheerful" category, Richard Cagliano 1st; Christopher Brooks 2nd; "funniest," Ben Dohrmann; 1st; Anna Dohrmann and Parker Hansen, 2nd; and "prettiest," Sarah Gamble 1st and Lauren Hansen 2nd; "judges' choice," Stephen Courage 1st, Riley Hansen 2nd and Danny Koris 3rd.

In the children's games, coordinated by Nancy Grover, assisted by Sue Howe, there were a number of old-time favorites played. In the senior division for the 50+ race, the winner was Jason Frazee, followed by Bill Gilbert 2nd and Martha Clegg 3rd. The winner in the junior division for the same race was Riley Hansen. Two teams tied for the egg and spoon race for first place. They included Lydia Grover, Karen Wheeler, Richard Cagliano, Fred Gehring, Justin Gilbert, Christopher Brooks, Martha Grover, Riley Hansen, Travis Brooks and Ben Dohrmann. In the senior three-legged race, first prize went to Karen Wheeler, Martha Grover and second prize to Jason Frazee and Kyle Kingman. In the junior three-legged race, the winners were Fred Gehring and Richard Cagliano. The senior division winners for the ice cream eating contest were Kyle Kingman 1st, Justin Gilbert 2nd and Christopher Brooks 3rd; junior division winners were Fred Gehring, Richard Cagliano and Ashley Brooks. The award for best overall effort was given to Ashley Brooks.

The badminton tournament winner was Jason Frazee. This was under the supervision of Eddie Hoehl. Lynda Chandler was set to supervise the croquet tournament, but this was postponed due to weather conditions. Large numbers participated in the horseshoe tournament, under the supervision of George Gould and his daughter Karen. There were so many participants that only the doubles games were completed. Winners here were Marty Keninson, Jefferson, N.H., and Ronald York, Bar Mills, New York; Bethel, and Aron Gross, Jefferson, N.H., second; and Jerry Greenwell, Brunswick and Daisy Collins, Bridgton.

The traditional and always popular flower show was held in the Dr. Moses Mason House museum. All sizes and types of bouquets in a variety of con-

By CONSTANCE BROADBENT

Dear Cousin Tom (not to be confused with Brother Tom or Son Tom):

I have to tell you about Andy Helms...sort of. I really don't know his wife. She's seen her for a few days, and we've seen her on several occasions. When we dined there earlier this year, with visitors from Massachusetts, she waited on us and told us that her husband was an Andy from Needham. I shouted, "Andy Helms!" and the rest of the group said "Andy Helms!" and I realized that she had given me his name and Bryant Pond location. It was great fun and a wonderful ice-breaker. Kiley says "hello" to you each time we go in, so I thought I'd better pass it on.

The Bethel Senior Citizens chose the Boiler Room for the site of their recent meeting. About 70 or so members enjoyed the food and fellowship in the sunroom were West Bethelites Cleo Roche, the Frances Remmets & II, Helen Saunders, Grace Merrill and Olive Head. Olive sat at the birthday table and celebrated her upcoming natal day with other "august" seniors, proud of her 86 years and happy to be feted. As they listened to a program by Donald Nichols, the Androscoggin Health Service, the waterfront diners watched sailboats and paddleboats drifting by Lake Christopher.

The Hestermanns, meanwhile, were drifting down the Mississippi River for their sixth trip the Delta Queen, an authentic western river steamboat. Jane and Dick stopped at another river cruise that started in St. Louis and wound up in Chattanooga, Tenn. Their journey took them down the Mississippi, up the Ohio River, into the Tennessee River. As the elegant craft (once a Navy troop ferry) cruised the river, it passed through locks ranging in height from 30 feet to 95 feet. There was a stop at Shreveport, La., to bathe and swim, and visits to New Orleans and the Mississippi River delta. They disembarked at Chattanooga, and it was from there that the Hestermanns flew home to West Bethel, just in time for Dick to check in to Central Maine Medical Center for one-day surgery. After a laryngoscopy and the excision of a throat tumor, the patient was last seen, enjoying ice cream and frappes, and other good, but soft, treats.

While the Hestermanns took the waterways, my neighbor took to the highways and the skyways. Dewey and Verna Thayer drove overland with their friends, Marion and Albert Watts, of Tenants Harbor. On the road for most of a month, they took in American vistas from coast to coast. They saw Mt. Rushmore, the Badlands of South Dakota, and Old Faithful. They were awed by the beauty of the Grand Canyon, the Yellowstone forest fires, and the aftermath of the Mount St. Helen eruption.

In Washington (state) they visited Dewey's cousin; in Idaho they paused at the home of LeeAnn Pippinger (daughter of Walter Grover, who is brother to Verna). Somewhere along the way (I forgot to ask where) they saw some of Marlyn's relatives and the return trip stopped in Lafayette, Ind., to see the Waddells (parents of Marlyn Grover, wife of Richard, who is also brother to Verna).

Just as the Thayer party of four "landed on home," the Grover party of four (Rupert, Sr. and Jr., Dan and Barth) drove to the camp to find the first adventure. The group toured the charge area for two days while awaiting the plane that would jet them 387 miles to the Unalakleet River fishing camp. They saw the Portage Glacier and its attendant icebergs, drove around the Kenai Peninsula, and even met a former Burlington, Vt., man who had fished the lake's waters for 40 years as a customer of his truck driver father. (Add another pin to the "Small World" chart.)

Once at the camp, 20 minutes by boat up the river from the small town of Unalakleet, the party enjoyed the sport of fishing to the ultimate degree. Since each person was allowed to keep only 20 fish, and the limit was 50 pounds of sole fish, they had to release many fish after the first day was caught and released. With a guide (one for every two men) to help with the landing and releasing of fish, the men cast for and caught more than their fill of Pollock, Vardens, Graylings, and four kinds of salmon. Rupert, Sr., reports that he's never seen such an abundant fishery before.

As the transcontinental travelers were drifting down the Mississippi, up the Ohio River, into the Tennessee River, as the elegant craft (once a Navy troop ferry) cruised the river, it passed through locks ranging in height from 30 feet to 95 feet. There was a stop at Shreveport, La., to bathe and swim, and visits to New Orleans and the Mississippi River delta. 'Snow Country' readers rate skiway #2 nationally

The Sunday River Ski Resort has been recognized by "Snow Country," a popular skiing magazine, as one of the top ski resorts in the United States. The resort was ranked number-two nationally in two categories, including quality of mountain experience and shortness of liftlines.

In the mountain experience category, the resort received 4.5 of a possible 5.0 points in a reader evaluation survey. Sunday River ranked ahead of such legendary ski resorts as Vail, Colo., and Sun Valley, Idaho. A similar survey of lift-wait times ranked Sunday River in the second place slot, the only eastern area listed.

"We're very happy with this recognition," said Sunday River Director of Marketing Bill Jensen. "It confirms our commitment to providing superlative skiing," Mr. Jensen noted that a 1988 "Ski" magazine article had rated Sunday River as one of the nation's top 10 ski resorts. "Snow Country" ratings were based on the response by over 1,000 readers to a mid-season survey in February.

In the "Snow Country" poll, the ski area that was ranked number-one nationally was Big Sky, Montana.

Dr. Taylor leaves Bethel for Falmouth next month

Dr. Will Taylor will be permanently leaving the Bethel Area Health Center effective Sept. 12, health center officials announced this week.

Dr. Tom O'Meara and Jan Whitworth, the Arthur Gilbers and the Vautours enjoyed lobsters on the dock at Five Islands (near Bath) recently, on their way to Reed State Park. Once at the beach, however, they were deprived of any view beyond 30 yards. The incoming tide crashed on the barely visible beach, while the ocean and area visibility remained socked in until a very strong fog.

The Vautours got luckier a few days later, when they motored mountain-side to the Balsams Resort to enjoy a fine luncheon with Reg and Linda Westleigh. The day was a glorious, clear, and warm testimony to summer, and the mountains and valleys were resplendent in their summer greens.

At the White Visiting-the-Relatives-Department, Rescoe Staples III and Denise Taylor have enjoyed a stay with Rocky's grandparents, Alfred and Margaret Merrill. They've been up from Jacksonville, Fla., for a few days of fishing and filling up on Margaret's good cooking...Recent Mainers guests were Anne and Diane Vautour, and Ed Ruscio. The three basked in the sun and the serenity of the mountain setting, took cooling dips in the pool, and thoroughly enjoyed their "getaway" weekend.

Now, Thomas, speaking of getaway...

...which I'll get to. We'd welcome you to our hills, and if there are paying guests here, too, you get to sleep in the attic. Don't worry, I vacuumed up all the debris files. If you come up at the end of the month, you could enjoy a grange supper with us, as we'll be finalizing plans for the Sept. 16 Harvest Fair.

Or to run...another toad plopped in the pool, and it's my day for "toad patrol."

Give my love to Lydia, your mother, and Maggie, your sister. Tell them to head this way before the phlox fade.

Hope to see you soon.

Love, C.B.

The Extension Line . . .

From the U. of M. Extension Service

The question of whether or not to have your water tested is a serious one that concerns the health of you and your family. Your water should be safe to drink and safe to use for all other household uses. In addition to taste, a variety of less serious problems such as taste, color, odor, and staining of clothes or fixtures are symptoms of water quality problems. Even water that appears problem-free may not necessarily be safe or acceptable.

Not everyone needs to test their water and it is impractical and unnecessary to test for all possible contaminants. Below are some guidelines for deciding whether or not to have your water tested, and if so, what tests would be appropriate for your situation.

Public versus private water supplies—Many homeowners get water simply by turning on the faucet and making a monthly payment to a municipal water system. Others provide their own water. Your water supply is either public (you and others are connected to the same water system) or private (you supply your own water). Public water systems draw water from rivers, reservoirs, springs or groundwater wells. Most private drinking water comes from wells, though springs and ponds are sometimes used.

If your water comes from a public or municipal water system, your water is regularly tested for contaminants regulated by federal and state standards, such as bacteria, radioactive elements and certain toxic chemicals. However, some public water supplies may have water quality problems caused by incomplete municipal water treatment facilities or distribution systems. Some rural water supply districts do not have enough money to hire trained specialists or to immediately comply with expansion or government requirements. In addition, private water or deteriorating pipes in the home may add contaminants to municipal drinking water after it enters your home.

If you can't drink water from your own well, you alone are responsible for assuring that it is safe. For this reason, routine testing for a few of the most common contaminants is highly recommended. Even if you currently have a safe, pure water supply, regular testing can be valuable because it establishes a record of water quality. This record can be helpful in solving future problems and in obtaining compensation if someone damages your water supply.

When should you test your water? Whether you have a public or private water supply, you should have your water tested if the following situations arise:

- If family members or house guests experience incidents of gastrointestinal illness; test for coliform bacteria, nitrate and sulfate.
- If household plumbing contains lead pipes, fittings, or solder joints; test for pH, corrosion index, lead, copper, cadmium and zinc.

Better Hearing Through Professional Care

* If you are buying a home and wish to assess the safety and quality of the existing water supply, test for common bacteria, nitrate, lead, iron, hardness, pH, sulfate, total dissolved solids (TDS), corrosion index, and other parameters depending on proximity to potential sources of contamination.

* If a water softener is needed to treat hard water: test for iron and manganese, which decreases the efficiency of exchange softeners, before purchase and installation.

* If you wish to monitor the efficiency and performance of home water treatment equipment: test for the specific water problem being treated upon installation, at regular intervals after installation, and if water quality changes.

* If water stains plumbing fixtures and laundry: test for iron, manganese and copper.

* If water has an objectionable taste or smell: test for hydrogen sulfide, pH, corrosion index, copper, lead, iron, zinc, sodium, chloride and TDS.

* If water appears cloudy, frothy, or colored: test for color, turbidity and detergents.

* If pipes or plumbing show signs of corrosion: test for pH, lead, iron, manganese, copper and zinc.

* If water leaves residue and soap scum, and decreases the cleaning action of soaps and detergents: test for water.

* If water supply equipment (pump, chlorinators, etc.) wears rapidly: test for pH, corrosion index.

Routine tests for private water supplies—the testing frequencies mentioned are general guidelines. Test more often if you suspect there is a problem with the quality of your drinking water.

Once each year, test for coliform bacteria, nitrate, pH and TDS. It is best to test for these contaminants during the spring or summer following a rainy period. These tests should also be conducted after repairing or replacing an old well or pipes, and after installing a new well.

Every three years, test for sulfate, chloride, iron, manganese, lead, hardness and corrosion index.

If a new baby is expected in the household, it is a good idea to test for nitrate in the early months of a pregnancy, before bringing an infant home, and again during the first six months of the baby's life.

Generally, water quality experts advise that you test surface water supplies and dug wells each year; from drilled wells less often, perhaps every five years, depending on what is happening nearby.

For example, if you have a drilled well that is located near a road that is heavily traveled or salted each winter, you probably should test your water every other year and watch for any pattern or trend in mineral and salt content. If you are near an old landfill or dump site, you will probably be wise to test your water annually.

For more information on water testing, call the State Public Health Lab in Augusta, at 289-7277.

High Street West Paris

By VIVA WHITMAN

What a lovely morning it is as I sit down to type. Rather cool, he does like to see things grow and feeds the tomato plants so they can take root and produce a lot of tomatoes. One of the plants I grew the other day is loaded with green tomatoes. Other plants are doing as well as we should get a good crop of tomatoes. Our niece, Beverly Andrews, was over the other day and said she never saw a better looking garden and it had to take a lot of work to look as it does. It is producing well so far and I guess it will continue to do so all goes well.

I have been going to mention in the last two weeks that if anyone is in need of a dehumidifier that Russell would like to be contacted. He has a brand new one, used less than 24 hours, that he would let go for half-price. Keep it in mind.

I have been told by a few folks that they wished I would have said more about my trip to Colorado but it would take up so much room if I wrote in detail about it. It is a great place to go and I would like to say that if one likes to go see some mountains that is a great place to go, as you can see for so many miles when you get on top of the Rocky Mountain National Park, and also if you go up Loveland Pass or Boreas Pass in the ski areas and just riding around as you travel up mountain sides so much to get around out there. It was a great trip in my eyes, and one who likes research would be for them also. As I told Tom what I did there, if Mother could have gotten out there she would have loved it as she was great for just riding to see the sights as she used to say. Go if you have the chance. I am not the only one who would tell you that; it is beautiful country.

Had to see the doctor several times lately as my back has been giving me a whole new thumb nail, but it seems to be getting better slowly.

Peggy didn't need to go get groceries last Friday so Russell and I went by ourselves. We went down to Ames to get a few items that were on sale while in town and called at one or two other places to errands.

Friday evening was dance night at Mechanic Falls, so Russell and Peggy went to a waltz. They had expected to have friends go but they didn't make it, so Peggy and Russell went alone. As usual they had a great time.

Saturday was Old Home Days at Andover and Peggy went over for a while. It was rainy and foggy but they had what they could and hope they made out OK. She called on Laura Hutchins while up Skowhegan on Sunday.

Guess that is all for this time. Glad we got some rain but know some folks got more than we did. For that I am sorry but we haven't gotten any and was glad of what we got. Take care and keep well, and cool, if possible.

Boise Cascade to develop lakes management plan

Boise Cascade's Coated Paper Division, with offices in Rumford, has been selected by the Maine Land Use Regulation Commission to develop a Model Lake Concept Plan for 22 lakes on land the company owns in the Commission's 10.5 million acre jurisdiction.

Boise's Model Lake Concept Plan is the first to be developed as part of the action program for management of lakes in Maine's Unorganized Areas, adopted by the Commission.

Fred Todd, supervisor of planning for the Land Use Regulation Commission, says Boise was selected to prepare the model "due to the extensive amount of natural resource information the company has developed for lands within its ownership."

According to the Commission's Lake Management Action Program, "A lake model is a general plan for the development and management of a large block of lake shorelands. The plan is a clarification of long term objectives and standards for management of lands for timber production.

The planning process will be used to prepare the model concept plan was chosen because it is a general plan for the development and management of a large block of lake shorelands. The plan is a clarification of long term objectives and standards for management of lands for timber production.

It is intended to be a general plan for the development and management of a large block of lake shorelands. The plan is a clarification of long term objectives and standards for management of lands for timber production.

According to Bob Withrow, manager of Boise Cascade's timberlands in New weekend, going home on Sunday when their parents got back. They were good girls for their doctor, so all was well.

Had to call the doctor for help on Monday as my back was still acting up badly. Got to see Dr. Sendzicki, who is one of the new ones over at North Bridgton, and she is good with her fingers and helped me a lot.

So I got some sewing to do and have been trying to get started on knitting with the Commission's policy guidelines for the management of lakes in unorganized areas. It will give consideration to natural and cultural resource values and be responsive to the Commission's intent to protect those lakes identified in the Maine Wildlands Lake Assessment as warranting special management consideration.

The plan will identify areas where new development may be located, resource protection measures and mechanisms that will be used to conserve important resources or areas.

A public review and comment period will be established by the Commission when the model plan has been submitted by Boise Cascade. Persons interested in receiving a copy of the draft plan at that time should write the Commission at State House Station #22, Augusta, 04333, or call, in-state, toll free, 1-800-452-8711.

Open house at Pease to feature Thunderbirds

The U.S. Air Force Flight Demonstration Squadron, the Thunderbirds, will highlight the 44th annual Pease Air Force Base open house, Sept. 9. The open house is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., with the Thunderbirds aerial performance beginning at 3 p.m.

Flying their distinctive red, white and blue F-16 Fighting Falcons, the Air Force's precision aerial demonstration team will perform a spectacular half-hour sequence of loops, rolls and dives. The demonstration consists of six aircraft spiraling, looping, rolling and diving through specific sequences of precision aerobatic maneuvers with maximum wingtip clearance. Highlighting the show will be the breathtaking bomb burst maneuver, as the diamond formation dissects the sky into four equal parts.

Other military aircraft will be in the air throughout the day, from the gates open until 2:30 p.m., the start of the Thunderbirds' "ground show." Among the aircraft performing fly-bys will be an F-15 fighter-bomber and a KC-135 Stratotanker assigned to the 100th Bombardment Wing and New Hampshire Air National Guard's 157th Air Refueling Group.

In the past, this year's open house also will feature a variety of military aircraft on ground display. These aircraft will represent the active Air Force, Air Force Reserve, National Guard, U.S. Navy, Coast Guard, Army and Marine Corps.

In addition to the aircraft, visitors will be able to see demonstrations by several Pease military units. The Air Force Band of New England will also perform. Admission to this family event is free. Refreshments will be sold along the static aircraft parking area. There will be a designated lost and found area and trained medical people will be available for emergencies.

Due to the expected large crowd, visitors are encouraged to carpool as much as possible and to arrive early. Additional parking areas will be available early in the day. Late arrivals could find parking difficult. Visitors are encouraged to bring portable chairs since seating will not be available for the general public.

As a safety precaution, smoking is not permitted on the flightline around the aircraft. In addition, since aircraft will be flying throughout the day, no balloons will be permitted, since they pose a hazard to aircraft.

Pease AFB is located three miles from Portsmouth, N.H., off the Spaulding Turnpike (Highways 4 and 16), just off Interstate 95.

PROMOTED TO CAPTAIN

Anthony M. Butters has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of Captain.

Butters is an aircraft commander with the 8th Military Airlift Squadron at McChord Air Force Base, Washington. He is the son of Muriel E. Butters, of Bethel.

The captain is a 1980 graduate of Elstar Regional High School and a 1984 graduate of the University of Maine, Orono.

HEARTFELT THANKS

How can I express my thanks for all that has been done to get me through the hours of pain and back to life again. First there was Barbara Wheeler, a faithful caring friend, who always comes when I need her. She has proved it again and again. Then the ambulance got here promptly. Thanks again to Arlene and Rose, who carried me to Stephens Memorial. They really stood on their toes. Which reminds me to say the hospital staff deserves thanks for their helpful ways. They made me feel welcome and cared for throughout my hospital stay. Then came the flowers and phone calls from family and friends I love so. There just isn't room here for all their names. Since there isn't, I just hope they know that I really appreciate all that's been done. Thanks to all of you right from my heart.

Ray, Janice and Patrick Herrington have been on a memorable two-week vacation. Patrick stayed at Camp Hinds, at Raymond, that first Thursday night with the other Boy Scouts. Ray and Janice met with them Friday as four bussloads of Maine scouts left for the National Scout Jamboree at Fort A.P. Hill, beginning at 3 p.m.

Friday night was spent in Annapolis, Md., and Saturday, Sunday and Monday they toured the Washington, D.C. area. Ray and Janice stopped at Fort A.P. Hill before going on to Atlanta, Ga., to spend some time with Robbie and Katlin Harrington. Wednesday of the next week, they stayed overnight with Janice's brother George and wife Pat Johnson in Cromwell, Conn. They had a wonderful time but were glad to be home Thursday in time to meet Patrick at Camp Hinds.

Rodney and Christine Hanscom house-and-dog sat for the Harringtons while they were gone.

Nellie Caplon, Attleboro, Mass., her daughter Helen, son-in-law Dominic Pepe, New York City, N.Y., and sister Gertrude Harrington, So. Berwick, are spending some time at her place on the Friday.

As Janice was on her way home from the hospital, Thursday, Henry Deegan, Cape Elizabeth, came to see them on the road between Duxbury and Tom Kenney's. It stopped and looked at them for a heart-stopping moment before driving away. Ernest Lee, Littleton, N.H., Nellie Caplon and Gertrude Harrington visited Joe and Muriel Gilbert this week. The Gilberts were shopping in New Hampshire on Friday.

Leah Deegan brought Joe home from the hospital, Thursday. Henry Deegan, Cape Elizabeth, came to see them on the road between Duxbury and Tom Kenney's. It stopped and looked at them for a heart-stopping moment before driving away. Ernest Lee, Littleton, N.H., Nellie Caplon and Gertrude Harrington visited Joe and Muriel Gilbert this week. The Gilberts were shopping in New Hampshire on Friday.

Caroli Colby got a piece of metal in his eye while doing some drilling and had to have it removed at the emergency room. It was beginning to rust but they feel they got all of it and it seems to be OK.

Some people think I shouldn't mention thunder showers again. The first one missed us but not the next one. It was a sod-soaking, gully-washer. Lightning blew the top off a fir tree beside the road near where the rain stopped before.

Oxford Hills Rotary hosting lobster dinner

The Oxford Hills Rotary Club, fresh from hosting a very successful Bean Hole Bean Festival, will once again provide sustenance for everyone when they put on their annual lobster dinner. This year's dinner will be held on Saturday, Aug. 19, at Oxford Hills High School, in Somersworth, with dinners being served from 3 to 7 p.m.

The Rotary Club will be serving a tasty Maine lobster, succulent steamed clams, fresh sweet corn and a soda—all

HERE'S THE CHURCH, AND HERE'S THE STEEPLE, but you've got to look up, to see the people. Mike Plawlock and Frank Packard, employees of "A Woman's Touch" Painting, took to the air recently to help paint the steeple of the Rumford Point Congregational Church.

Catherine McGuire attended a family reunion in Wayne on Aug. 16.

Callers on Florence Hall Saturday were Stacy and Dale Thompson, Rumford, nephew Keith Hall, Orland, Duane Damon, Winterport, Joy Hall and daughter Audrey, Ashburnham, Mass.

Florence Hall called on Arville Feener recently.

Gloria Chamberlin and mother Catherine McGuire attended Old Home Day on Saturday.

Stephen Hall and son Guy visited aunt Florence Hall. They had climbed Mt. Katahdin this week.

Charlotte Hayes visited her mother Elizabeth Sennett over the weekend.

Louis and Judy Hall, Roxbury, and Gordon Miller called on Florence Hall. Florence Hall displayed a quilt, at the Andover Historical Society building made by her great-great-grandmother Marston in the late 1800s.

Thought for the day: When a woodshed stood behind every American home and father didn't spare the rod, most cases of juvenile delinquency were settled out of court.

Rev. Dr. Givens' message: "Sowing and Reaping," Aug. 17-9, "What we sow in due season we shall reap. God is not mocked." Special music: Marilyn Morton and Rosemary Roberts sang "Don't lose your key to the Kingdom." Sharon Ferguson sang "Jesus what a Wonder you are," accompanied by her daughter at the piano.

The lobster dinner will not only be a Downeast feast for the diners, but the proceeds will help the Oxford Hills Rotary Club and their service projects that benefit the area.

So. Woodstock

By OLIVE R. DAVIS

Carl and Lettie Brooks took me to the Pink Sash night at West Paris Grange as hostess to Oxford Pomona. Curtis Lombard, State Master, conducted this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews, Bridgton, called on Olive Davis Wednesday afternoon. They picked over my yellow and green beans for me. The garden is the driest I've ever seen. The heavy rain we had Saturday was a big help.

I went to Bridgton Sunday to Arthur and Sylvia's. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Windham and family were home from Massachusetts. They were here to attend the Andrews Reunion, held Saturday in Waterford.

Esther Davis and daughter Patricia Tibbets attended a bridal shower held at St. Michael's Church, Auburn, for Esther's niece, Carolyn Pike, of Livermore, on Saturday afternoon.

Edith Desjardins of Geraldine Shorey spent three days at Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard, Mass., on Aug. 10.

Jeff Campbell mowed the South Woodstock graveyard this week.

Another coon finally got into my trap this week. They seem to be very thick around here. What a destructive little animal. They investigate every bag or tin can I covered up and rip them open.

There seems to be more wild animals around this year. I've seen two skunks in the road lately that were run over. Deer are more numerous than ever for night feedings.

Who has ants, oh I mean ants, this year? I haven't seen them tiny ones since 1939 when I was married. They were so thick where we stored our food we were forced into procuring an electric refrigerator. This year they are back and I have talked with others who have them. I have ants cups around and hope that will clear out the nest again.

Alcohol contributes to July's highway fatalities

The Bureau of Safety reports that 21 people died on Maine highways in July.

Alcohol was involved in 48 percent of the fatalities, the highest level of any month so far this year. Through July of this year, alcohol has been involved in 29 percent of all highway deaths.

Richard Peck, director of the Bureau of Safety, notes the following defensive driving practices to protect against impaired drivers:

- Avoid driving between midnight and 4 a.m. on any night of the week, especially weekend nights.

- Use your safety belt and urge others in your vehicle to do the same.

- Weaving, driving too slowly, running yellow lights, drifting... they are all signs of the drunken driver. Notify the police when you see one.

The report went on to say that three of the July victims were pedestrians; one a bicyclist and two motorcyclists. Of the 45 who died in passenger vehicles, only two were reported to be wearing seatbelts.

The 1988 fatality count through July stands at 112, 17 less than the same period last year (129) and seven less than the five-year average (119).

The family of Mrs. Millie Wentzell held a joyous reunion on Saturday, Aug. 5, at the cottage on Songo Pond. Erland and Margie Wentzell came from East Seabrook; Rodney and June Wentzell, from Cape Cod, Mass.; Robert and Mary Wentzell Elchel, from Worcester, Mass.; Carroll and Mildred Wentzell, from Gorham, N.H.

Eleven grandchildren—10 with their spouses were present. The 10th grandchild and his family who lives in Texas, were unable to attend. These present came from Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia, California and Panama.

Fourteen great-grandchildren, ranging in age from 16 months to 21 years with two friends made up the family members present.

Two Songo shore friends, under their umbrellas, joined the party for dessert, which was a beautiful and delicious birthday cake—Millie's "90th"—made by Ms. Christine Kimball. A happy, happy time! God bless families.

Thanks to Mr. Osgood's tent, which covered all 48, the rain did not dampen the food or spirits.

Due to the weather, a smaller crowd than usual attended the Vail Reunion, held at Ivy's Beach on Saturday, Aug. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Parsons returned to Connecticut Monday after visiting his parents and attending the reunion. George Parsons returned to his brother's Thursday after visiting the past week with his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Kilgore, in Harrison.

Mrs. Dot Orin was at the Androscoggin Valley Hospital in Berlin, N.H., a few days recently for observation.

Both Anna Salway and I were in Portland Monday for my medical appointment.

Mrs. Linda Burgess and two nieces, of Greene, visited Mrs. Christine Kimball Thursday. Christine drove Mrs. Paul Rugg to Harrison Friday for a doctor's appointment.

Medical testing by consumers in the privacy of their own homes is one of the latest trends in American health care. Sales of home testing kits have more than doubled in the last five years.

Home testing provides a conven-tient way to monitor existing health conditions and to screen for other health problems.

Screening Tests: Home tests can be used to screen for dental plaque, vision problems, and certain cancers (e.g., colon and breast). The results of screening tests should always be discussed with one's family physician or pharmacist for proper interpretation and/or referral.

Monitoring Tests: Home

test kits are available to monitor

such conditions as high blood pressure and diabetes. Ovulation prediction tests may be helpful to couples who want to plan their family by forecasting the best times for conception.

Technology is expected to provide tests for detecting the presence of certain viruses such as those which cause AIDS.

It is predicted that home test kits will probably become available to monitor blood levels of many prescribed medicines as well as a number of vitamins and minerals.

She has been very ill. Then Charlie and grandson Bruce have been fishing at Mt. Brook near Andover and got rained out this past week.

Charlie and Jeannette have also had company. Helen Chase was a visitor there and last week their granddaughter, Darlene Henderson and son Christopher, along with Marianne Gammon, East Wiscasset, and her step-grandchildren Meagan and Crissy McDaniel of Norway, were visiting. Darlene's husband, Robert Henderson, is building a log cabin for the owners across from Joe Cummings place on the Greenwood Road, and brother-in-law Bruce has been working for him, so he took lunch with the Knights one day and dinner with them one night.

Registration of new students who will be attending school within SAD #4 (Andover, Bethel, Greenfield, Newry and Woodstock) will take place at the appropriate school during the week of Aug. 21.

Parents/guardians of new students should bring medical records and the student's most recent rank card to the main office at the appropriate school. New Kindergarten students who have not previously registered must also bring a copy of their birth certificate and immunization records.

Below is a listing of the schools in SAD #4, their location and the grade spans contained within that school:

Andover Elementary School, Pine Street, Andover, Grades K-6; Crescent Park School, Crescent Street, Bethel, Kindergarten and Grades 3-5; Ethel Bissell School, Philbrook Street, Bethel, Jr. Kindergarten and Grades 1 and 2; Woodstock Elementary School, Rurford Avenue, Bryant Pond, Grades K-6; Telstar Middle School, Rte. 26, Bethel, Grade 6-8; Bethel students, Grades 7 and 8, all students; Telstar Regional High School, Rte. 26, Bethel, Grades 9-12, all students.

Parents/guardians are unable to register their students during the hours listed, they should telephone the individual school's office to make other arrangements.

The club will have a barbecue on Saturday, Aug. 26, at club president Joyce Walsh's home, in Roxbury. It's a BYOB and LYFTH (leave your horses home). There is also an overnight trail ride being planned for Sept. 23-24. If there are any overnight riders in the area, the club would like to hear from them. This could possibly become a combined club ride. Contact Ellis River Riders, at Box 321, Andover; or phone Debbie Cayer, at 392-2381.

Ellis River Riders have busy schedule

The Ellis River Riders are off to a good start this year, with two shows behind them and two coming up—Sept. 3 and Oct. 1. There were good crowds at the two shows.

The spring gymkhana show was fun for all, with Dumb the Dummy and other interesting classes. (The dummy's resemblance to an un-named contestant was unintentional.) There were also the old favorites—poles and barrels. Carla Carey and Strings NIR Nik gave a good show with winning times of 15:197 seconds on elevated barrels. Other good times were the night of Aug. 19. The club is looking forward to the upcoming group of competitors at the October show, when the cool fall temperatures promise the best conditions for these fast-paced events.

The spring of the second show, the Olde Home Days open show, are printed elsewhere in this issue. This is an annual event in Andover, starting with a parade on Sunday and the show on Monday.

The club recently moved a building to the shore club in Andover. It was formerly the Andover Day Care Center and was donated to the club by Peter and Mary Morgan, of Andover. Members are busy repairing the interior and look forward to operating it next year and offering a wide variety of short order items. The club members take pride in offering a quality show, with a friendly atmosphere. All horse enthusiasts are welcome to show, no matter whether they are beginners or advanced, or just come to rub elbows with people who share their equine interests.
